Yarborough Named AGM at America's Auto Auction Houston

DALLAS, Texas -- America's Auto Auction has announced that Angela Yarborough has been named the Assistant General Manager at its auction facility in Houston.

"We are pleased to announce the addition of Angela Yarborough to the leadership team at America's Auto Auction Houston," said John Swofford, Senior Vice President of America's Auto Auction. "Her many years in the industry and her understanding of the independent auction makes her a perfect fit in Houston, and we look forward to a long and successful relationship."

Yarborough brings more than 30 years of experience to her new post at America's Auto Auction Houston. She began her auction career in 1989, when she was hired at Rawls Auto Auction as a block clerk. She worked for nearly three decades at Rawls, serving in the fleet/lease department, in business development and as the facility's assistant general manager. She went on to work in national sales and as an auction general manager in the Houston area with one of the auction corporate chains, prior to her arrival at America's Auto Auction.

“We’re happy to welcome Angela to America’s Auto Auction Houston,” said General Manager Ben Nash. “Her vast knowledge of the industry and her devotion to customer service will both benefit our customers and make us an even stronger auction team.”

Nash notes that America’s Auto Auction Houston, which opened in October of 2015, has recorded significant increases in its customer base as well as consignment volumes over the past six months coinciding with a return to live in-lane selling. “With all that’s happening in our market, we determined it was time to hire an Assistant General Manager, and Angela was the ideal choice,” said Nash.

“From my first day at America’s Auto Auction Houston I knew that I’d found my new home,” said Yarborough. “The independent auction is part of my DNA, and I can tell that’s something I share with the employees here in Houston. A great majority of the them have worked at the auction since it opened, and they all exhibit what’s best about an independent: they all work together to get the job done, whatever it takes, putting the customer first.

“America’s Auto Auction Houston is a great facility, equipped to handle both commercial accounts and dealer customers, and we have an exciting future ahead of us. I couldn’t be working for a better team,” Yarborough concluded.
